Wildlife Safari – Morning, evening and/or full day safaris to seek out Sri Lanka's exotic creatures by boat or jeep in Gal Oya and Yala National Parks.

Few countries have as many UNESCO World Heritage Sites in such a tiny area. Sri Lanka's 2000-plus years of history and culture can be revealed at ancient sites where renowned temples boast defining details. Across the island, that sound you heard in the middle of the night might have been an elephant heading to its favorite waterhole. Head out on safari in Sri Lanka's pleasantly laid-back national parks to encounter leopards, water buffalo, all manner of birds and a profusion of primates. When it's time to leave the tropical climate of the lowlands and coast, head for the hills, with their temperate, impossibly green charms. Fertile tea plantations and rainforest-covered mountains entice trekkers, sightseers and those who just want to see it from the patio of their comfortable hotel. And then there are the beaches. Often deserted and spectacularly white, they circle the island so that no matter where you go, you'll be close to a sandy jewel. Should you be able to leave your beach towel, you can swim and snorkel world class sites without world-class crowds. Come experience Sri Lanka with the leaders in adventure travel.
