

Montana – Glacier National Park

Trip Summary

Known to the Native Americans as the “Shining Mountains” and the “Backbone of the World,” Glacier National Park preserves over a million acres of old growth forests, alpine lakes, rugged mountains and sweeping wildflower meadows. Boasting more than 750 miles of maintained trails, one of the most scenic stretches of paved road in North America and a river equally as suited for rafting as it is gazing at the surrounding beauty, the Park’s unique, glacier-carved terrain is an adventurer’s paradise.

Hike backcountry trails for a jaw-dropping view of history laden sedimentary cliffs and jagged ice fields reflected perfectly in the azure blue waters of Iceberg Lake. Step into the set of The River Wild as you raft the unspoiled waters of the Flathead. By day, witness the wildlife and natural beauty of the park up close and personal. By night, raise a glass to your day’s adventure before retiring to the comfort of your historic mountain resort, chalet, or lodge.

A jaw-dropping view of giant limestone cliffs and ice fields shooting up from the pristine blue waters of the alpine lake below • If you’re feeling adventurous, take a dip into the iceberg dotted lake! • After lunch at the lake, we’ll hike back to our shuttle and continue on to our home for the night, Many Glacier Hotel • (B, L, D) Overnight at Many Glacier Hotel

Gould, the Continental Divide and Grinnell Falls • Upon reaching trail’s end, you’re rewarded with spectacular views of the retreating Grinnell Glacier, the milky white Upper Grinnell Lake, and several other glaciers meandering their way along the Continental Divide • Take your time heading back to the trailhead, and this evening enjoy a night on your own in Many Glacier • Overnight at Many Glacier Hotel (B, L)
